URSINUS HOCKEY TEAM DEFEATS BEAVER BY A 9-2 SCORE ON FRIDAY

Skillful Passing and Commendable Team-work Shown by Co-eds In Initial Contest

BOWLER HIGH SCORER

Much has been said about the spirited determination and fighting zeal of Ursinus' teams, with perhaps more attention to the men's side than to the women's. Yet on Friday afternoon the Girls' Hockey Team proved that they, too, have "that something" which distinguishes an Ursinus athlete. It was not the fact that they won as much as the way in which they played the game. It was teamwork from start to finish.

To attempt the selection of those starring is impossible. One cannot say of a perfect engine "this is the essential part" nor is one able to differentiate among the component parts of a team when each plays the part assigned her, whether it be to break up plays, feed shots, or to shoot goals.

The highest compliment which can be given is that each did the thing assigned her. With such a spirit there is only one kind of season we may expect the team to have—a most successful one.

Those playing are as follows:

Ursinus	Beaver
Sato .... Right Wing ....	Wilets
Rothenberger .... Inside Right	Wilson
Bowler .... C. Forward ....	Boucher
Tower .... Left Wing ....	Jenks
Seitz .... R. Halfback ....	Kearney
Hoffer .... C. Halfback ....	Cooke
Wisner .... L. Halfback ....	Steele
Fetters .... R. Fullback ....	Reid
Sargeant .... L. Fullback ....	Krips
Greager .... Goalkeeper ....	Darby

Ursinus goals—Witman 2, Bowler 3, Rothenberger 2, Hoffer 1, Tower 1.
Beaver goals—Edith Wilson 2.

FRESHMAN WEEK HELD FOR ALL FROSH CO-EDS

One of the most interesting events of the year, Freshman Week, is now being held at Ursinus. For some time it has been customary to give one week to the Sophomore girls in which they may assign special duties and costumes to the Freshman girls. This is in charge of the Sophomore Rules Committee, and they have set certain rules for the entire week, with specials for each day.

Some of the requirements for the whole week concern costumes. No jewelry, cosmetics, or curled hair are to be in evidence, a necklace of paper chips tied with a green bow is to be worn; and Freshmen must appear in middies and skirts with black lisle stockings until 5.30 P. M. every day.

Duties like carrying the books of upper classmen and sophomores, using back doors and walking up stairs backward in the halls are also required. Freshmen must curtsy to members of the faculty, upper classmen and sophomores.

The daily specials include using "thee" and "thou," drinking liquid through straws, carrying lime drops, eating with forks only or with spoons only, dressing as babies for dinner, and being able to spell Ursinus backwards when asked.

This week always proves amusing to everyone but the Freshmen and they, themselves, can use this opportunity to show themselves "good sports."

JOHNSON AND SPANGLER TO DIRECT 1929 RUBY

Ruby elections were held at a meeting of the Junior Class on Monday, October 17. Robert "Jobby" Johnson will be the Editor of the 1929 Ruby and Walter Spangler will be the Business Manager. Both men are capable of filling these positions well. Johnson has proven his executive ability and is a member of the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, on which he served as secretary. He is also an associate editor of the Weekly. He has been active in athletics, also, as right end on the Varsity football team. "Walt" Spangler showed his dependability and steadiness on the Varsity tennis team and in other campus activities. With these men in charge of the 1929 Ruby it has a very promising outlook.

GROUPS HOLD MEETINGS FOR FIRST SEMESTER ON LAST TUESDAY EVENING

Interesting and Distinctive Programs Feature Gatherings of the Various Groups

MATH. MET PREVIOUS THURS.

Latin and Greek drank wassail when the Classical Group held its first meeting in the Y. W. C. A. room on Tuesday evening. The meeting was called to order by the President, Mr. Faust, '28. In his speech of welcome Mr. Faust spoke of the importance of co-operation on the part of every member. The minutes were read and approved.

Dean Kline, ever popular as a speaker, spoke on the importance of the classics and classic languages and showed how the Classical Group excels all others. Miss Hahn, '31, followed with an appropriate selection, a reading entitled "A Ford Classic," according to Virgil.

Mr. Weller, '28, sang two fine baritone solos, "Sweet Little Woman of Mine" by Bartlett, and "Noon and Night" by Hawley. His performance exceeded expectations. Three poems were read by Miss Gladys Barnes, '30, "The Callers," "Dirty Hands" and "Football," all compositions of Edgar Guest. Miss Barnes' reading was pleasant and humorous.

Two bass solos, "Little Mother of Mine" and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" were sung by Mr. Saalman, '29. Mr. Saalman's voice and rendition merit the highest praise. "Reminiscences" was the title of Mr. Koons' '28, entertainment. He brought some new impersonations, the "Train Cal" (Continued on page 4)

JOHN G. HERNDON CHOSEN AS ASS'T IN ECONOMICS

Ursinus has elected John G. Herndon, Jr., A. M., as associate professor of economics. He will give courses in corporation finance and in public finance and taxation. Professor Herndon is a graduate of Washington and Lee University and pursued several years of graduate work at the University of Wisconsin, where he specialized in taxation.

For a number of years he was employed in the United States Treasury department as an expert and later became associated as such with the National City Company and the Guaranty Trust Company of New York. For the past seven years he has conducted an office of his own as a tax consultant in Philadelphia. In this capacity he acquired wide and varied experience in problems of federal and state taxation and has become favorably known to a large clientele of business men and financiers. In accepting the professorship at Ursinus he returns to academic life and will devote his time to research and the teaching of college classes.

URSINUS WOMAN'S CLUB ENTERTAINS SENIORS AT LUNCHEON ON SATURDAY

Mrs. J. M. S. Isenberg Presides and Mrs. Price, President, Greets Members and Guests ENJOYABLE OCCASION

On Saturday last at one o'clock the Ursinus Woman's Club was hostess to the girls of the Senior class at a picnic luncheon. The affair was one that will go down in history as an achievement for both the Club and the Seniors, for—how the ladies could prepare so many delicious things, or how the girls could eat so much, are destined to remain a mystery.

The Social Committee, chairmaned by Mrs. J. M. S. Isenberg, certainly deserves commendation for the appetizing array which met the guests' anxious glances around the beautifully arranged Y. W. room. The receiving line, headed by Dr. Elizabeth B. White and Mrs. Mary Shade Price, '04, included many members of the club, who charmingly greeted the guests and emphasized a royal welcome.

Upon signal from Mrs. Isenberg, the feast was on, and the rapidly diminishing piles of salad, sandwiches, and fruit soon proved that the attractive array tasted even more luscious than it looked, if such were possible. Then Mrs. Price, the President of the Woman's Club, told in a well-chosen words how functions such as this, which were not even dreamed (Continued on page 4)

URSINUS PREPARING FOR SATURDAY'S TRACK MEET

Coach Veatch Training Candidates

Cross Country, a sport hitherto practically unknown at Ursinus, has made its appearance as a recognized branch of athletics this fall. Three weeks ago Coach Ralph W. Veatch, Ursinus' first real track coach, issued a call for candidates; about a dozen and a half fellows responded and have been practicing steadily since. Starting out with setting up exercises and light workouts on the new track three times a week, the squad is now following a stiff schedule consisting of practice runs over the course with short jogs on the track on alternate days. Exercises designed to loosen up all leg and thigh muscles are a feature of every workout. Some of these are quite novel, the squad looking more like a crowd of candidates for the front row of a revue chorus than harriers bent on having a winning team.

According to Manager Swanger, the team will take part in only one meet this year, the Conference meet to which Ursinus is host and which will be run off immediately before the (Continued on page 4)

ROBT. TRUCKSESS OFFERS PRIZE TO H.-P. SENIORS

Ursinus College announces a prize of $25 to be awarded at each annual commencement to the Senior in the Historical-Political Group who shall have made the best record in his college course and gives the best promise for the future. The Historical-Political Group, as is indicated by its name, consists largely of those who are preparing themselves for a career in the legal profession. The prize has been established by Robert Trucksess, ex-'19, an attorney of Norristown, who was a student in Ursinus and a member of the Historical-Political Group until his senior year when the fortunes of war took him to another institution as an officer in the Student Army Training Corps. The prize will be awarded for the first time at the commencement of 1928.

WENONAH MIL. ACADEMY DEFEATS FRESHMEN IN FRIDAY AFTERNOON GAME

Campiglio, Ursinus Quarterback, Hurt in Second Half, but Injury Proved Not Serious

PLAY HILL THIS FRIDAY

Wenonah Military Academy continued their march toward an undefeated season by trouncing the Ursinus yearlings 39-0 on the former's field last Friday afternoon. The Frosh were outplayed in all stages of the game.

Campiglio, Ursinus quarterback, was injured in the second half and was forced to leave the game. "Camp" suffered a severe neck injury and for a time he was thought to have been seriously hurt but careful examination revealed otherwise.

Wenonah tallied twice in the opening round before the Jay Vees found themselves and held for the remainder of the half. In the last half the little Bears could not withstand the cadets' rush and twenty-five points were rolled up on them.

Graupner, heralded as one of the greatest quarterbacks of all time for Wenonah, scored three of his team's touchdowns on long runs.

This Friday the Jay Vees make a short trip to Pottstown to play the (Continued on page 4)

ZWING AND SCHAFF HOLD COMBINED MEETING FRIDAY

The Zwing and Schaff societies held a combined meeting in Bomberger Hall on Friday evening. The business and the devotional exercises were omitted in order to save time for the parade after the meeting, and the program began immediately.

Vivian Waltman, '28, read an interesting short story by O. Henry, and Mr. Clarence Ergood, '30, substituted for Mr. Frank Rohrbach's originality. His tale of St. George and the Dragon was extremely well rendered and the accompanying organ selections were appropriate and pleasing.

A one-act play, "Engaging Janet," was sponsored by Miss Isabel Houck, '29, and Miss Mary Rule, '29. The leading role was well portrayed by Miss Mary Kassab, '28, as a college senior who has decided on a career. Those who interviewed her displayed many interesting characteristics and were well played by Miss Helen Dealy '29, Miss Isabel Ellis '29, Miss Margaret Ozias '28, Miss Elizabeth Harter '28, and Miss Dorothy Berger, '28. Miss Elizabeth Cornwell, '28, as Bridget provided no little amusement. Interesting jazz selections with a prologue were given by Mr. Sherwood Peters, '30, assisted by Mr. Rohrbach '30. After this the meeting adjourned.

DICKINSON BEATS BEARS IN HARD FOUGHT HOME GAME, SATURDAY, 12-7

Sensational Rally in Closing Moments of Play Too Late For Victory Over Foe FORMER SPIRIT LACKING

Unheralded and unsung, a red jerseyed horde of Dickinson football warriors invaded Patterson Field, Saturday, and dealt a death blow to Ursinus' Conference hopes by defeating Coach Kichline's Bears 12-7 in a hard fought contest before a large crowd.

Ursinus, fresh from a 32-7 victory over F. & M., played their worst game of the season. For the first time this year, the famed Ursinus line failed to hold before the onslaught of the powerful Dickinson backs.

Moyer Stars

"Kid" Moyer again kept the Bears' hopes alive with his defensive work and although he was stopped at times on his open field running he featured in Ursinus' forward pass attack. His longest run of thirty-five yards came in the last minute of play when Ursinus made a frantic attempt to stave off defeat.

Dickinson Strong

The Dickinson aggregation, coached by Duffy, a former Lafayette star, appeared to be "pointed" for Saturday's fray and they clearly outplayed Ursinus. The Carlisle backfield was especially strong, Slivinsky, who replaced Cook at halfback, made huge gains through the Ursinus line, and scored both of their touchdowns on straight football. A strong line and excellent interference completed Dickinson's offense.

Passes Score for U

Ursinus kicked off to Dickinson, who failed to gain and punted to mid-field. Jeffers tore off six yards on the first play around right end and Moyer added two yards on the next play. A Dickinson man was detected holding and penalized fifteen yards. A pass, Moyer to Faust, was good for twenty-five yards and after Dickinson held on the next play Moyer hurled a pass to Jeffers who raced across the goal line to give the Bears an early advantage. Schell added the extra point in the form of a beautiful placement kick.

Bears Hold

Dickinson launched a drive which carried them to Ursinus' ten yard line where the Bears gained possession of the pigskin on an incompleting forward pass on the last down. Again, after Moyer punted out of danger, Dickinson carried the ball up the field only to be halted within the twenty yard line. Twice, Ursinus men recovered a Dickinson fumble to momentarily halt the red onslaught. Joll, recovered a fumble on a line play and Johnson nailed a fumbled punt. In the second period Dickinson crashed through the Ursinus line for large gains, Sweeley and Slivinsky carrying the ball and Slivinsky finally plunging over for the touchdown. (Continued on page 4)

OLD TIMER'S DAY SAT.

Alumni of Ursinus College are expected to turn out in full force for Old Timer's Day, Oct. 29.

At that time the New Field Cage will be formally dedicated, a cross-country run will be held, the game between the Bears and George Washington will be played at 2.30, and in the evening a Student Council dance in the Arcadia grill rooms will cap the climax of a great day.

To date there are only 180 members of the Alumni Athletic Club, this number is entirely too small and a campaign to increase the membership is now in full swing. It is the endeavor of the committee to increase the membership to 400 by Saturday.

Editorial Comment

ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT

When it was decided that the Literary Societies should hold their meetings in Bomberger Hall many believed that there would be various improvements in the society meetings. Non-members, particularly, often complained that they were unable to get into the society halls and hear the programs. Even members were obliged to gather in a group at the back of the room, and naturally the order under such circumstances was not of the best.

Therefore, one of the alleged advantages of the new plan was that everyone could find a place, and thus eliminate the congestion and disorder of previous years.

Experience, however, has proved quite the contrary. Some students seem to feel that they cannot enjoy the programs unless they are gracing the stairs or radiators in the back part of the hall. This would not be particularly objectionable if proper order were maintained, but such is not the case. There has not been one meeting held this year where the audience as a whole seemed to show any appreciation of the program. This is due entirely to a few who not only do not care to pay the performers the common courtesy of attention, but who also prevent others from enjoying the entertainment.

Those who prepare the numbers on the society programs put into this task a great deal of effort, more than most of the uninitiated realize, and it is extremely discouraging to have one's efforts laughed at or ignored by a part of the audience. Certainly, consideration for the performers and for the rest of the audience should enter the thoughts of those who have been disturbing the general order.

A climax was reached Friday evening. The excuse may be offered that the spirit of the "pep" meeting was still predominant, but college students should have reached an age where they are able to control their feelings for a time and interest themselves in something beside that which has held their attention a few moments previous. Such actions as were displayed Friday evening are distinctly typical of the adolescent.

The president's rebuke was apparently taken to heart and it is most certainly to be hoped that there will be no repetition of this discourtesy in the future.

M. T. S., '28.

WANTED—MORE CHEERLEADERS

It would be a pity if the Ursinus Spirit which has just been roused from its seven-year sleep should be tucked under the covers again by any minor failings, and with the tremendous energy already shown by the half-a-wakened giant, this hardly seems possible. Nevertheless these little matters that administer the knockout drops are constantly at hand, and must ever be guarded against.

Perhaps the most evident of these short-comings lies in the cheer-leaders. Understand, we are not criticising those who now hold that post. Their labors so far have been most commendable. The trouble is that there are not enough of them. At the present time there are only two. There was a time, and not so very long ago, at that, that two cheerleaders were more than enough. But times have changed. Within the past half-dozen years the enrollment of the College has doubled itself. Not only does this mean increased number of rooters, but also a greater number of first-year students who are naturally unfamiliar with the cheers used. To control this mass of potential bedlam two men are insufficient. The situation is further complicated by the fact that the head cheerleader is also acting as band-master. The point was well-illustrated on Saturday last. Spread over the stands at F. and M. were approximately three hundred rooters. To lead them there was only one man. He did the best he could, and the results were fair, but had he the proper assistance, the cheering would have been much better. At home games the situation is worse. The present grandstand cannot seat more than a third of those who should be cheering. It is possible, though, to group the remainder on the side-lines in such a way as to form a sizeable cheering section. One man, however, cannot be expected to lead this body alone. By the time the last period has come, when he is often needed most, he is too fagged out to render efficient service. To do adequate work there should be five men for the student body. This would give five men, who could work together when necessary and at other times in relays. Not only would this give a fresh cheerleader at all times, but a pleasing variety in the cheers and the manner of leading them as well. The benefits to be derived cannot be overestimated.

It is not for us to say who the new cheerleaders should be or how they should be selected. The meat of the nut lies in the fact that substitutes on the cheering lines are as necessary as reserve strength on the bench and that in this case the need is imperative.

ALUMNI NOTES

On August 31, Reba Mushlitz, '23, and B. Wycliff Griffin, '25, tied a campus romance in a knot when they were married by Rev. Herbert R. Howells '23, of Cheltenham. The bride was attended by Esther Hughes, '23, and the groom by Robert Farley, '21. Mr. and Mrs. Griffin are living in Lansdowne where Mr. Griffin is teaching History.

On October 8, Adeline Thomas, '27, and Robert Farley, '21, were married at Brunswick, Maryland. Barbara Boston, '27, was maid of honor, and Kathryn Shipe, '26, and Ruth Weldon, '25, were among the bride's maids. B. Wycliff Griffin, '25 served as best man and Earl Skinner, '27, was an usher. Beatrice Schafer, '25, sang before the ceremony.

Augustus A. Welsh, '26, Scott F. Brenner, '26 and Clair E. Blum, '27, are Juniors in the Theological Seminary of The Reformed Church, Lancaster, Penna.

Miss Kathryn Westte, ex-'27, of York, is teaching in the schools of La Porte, Indiana. She spent the past summer as a student in the Summer Session of the University of Chicago.

Herbert Howells' 23, was studying music at New York University last summer. For all the students he gave a song recital in the Wanamaker Auditorium, and had a WJZ concert with men from the Philharmonic Orchestra.

Y. W. C. A.

One of the most interesting and enjoyable Y. W. C. A. meetings was held under the leadership of Stella Sato, '29, last Wednesday evening. The prayer, reading, and scripture were all in keeping with the theme of the four act play "Out of Darkness."

The play endeavored to show the influence of the Christian Mission Schools in China. Ngai Tsen, played by Miss Sato, became dissatisfied with the heathen worship while at school but in her desire to become a Christian meets with family opposition especially on the part of her grandmother, a character well portrayed by Margaret Stocker, '29. The counsels of a teacher, Miss Katherine Tower, '30, and some of her friends are influential in Ngai Tsen's conversation which in the end spreads to the father, Olive Sargeant, '29, and the mother, Blanche Fehr, '29.

Many Chinese customs are portrayed in "Out of Darkness." The mother was kept in the background and had very little to say when her husband or mother-in-law was present. All outward expressions of family affection were absent. The fact that it is easier to win the hearts of the young than the old was also brought out.

The tableau at the close of the play was very impressive showing the horror of the grandmother as she beholds her son and his wife led by Ngai Tsen reach out to the true light of the Father. During this scene Miss Von Steuben, '28, sang "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say."

The Tower Window

HAVING accepted one of the numerous invitations to attend academic events that have come to my desk this fall, last Thursday found me at Lafayette College as the representative of Ursinus at the inauguration of William Mather Lewis as president.

The day's events had been arranged with the expectation of fair weather. The lack of sunshine detracted somewhat from the picturesqueness of the scene, but the rain ceased to fall about noon and the spirits within as well as the gaudy garments without were not suffered to droop. Notwithstanding clouded skies the academic procession, always a feature of such celebrations, was an imposing affair with fully one hundred and seventy-five delegates in line.

The celebration opened with an address in the morning on "Creative Co-operation" by the well-known professor of electro-mechanics, Dr. Michael I. Pupin of Columbia University. At noon the ladies of Easton and Phillipsburg served a luncheon in the gymnasium, and a good one it was. There were a few speeches at the table by representatives of sister colleges who were old friends of Dr. Lewis.

The inauguration ceremonies, proper, took place in the afternoon. These were featured with the usual addresses of greeting from the students, alumni and faculty, an inaugural prayer of deep spiritual insight and unusually fine literary excellence by Dr. J. Ross Stevenson, of Princeton Theological Seminary, and, of course, the address of the new president. The latter may be tersely, if tritely, characterized as "safe and sane".

An announcement made at the luncheon was perhaps significant of what may be expected at Lafayette under the administration of President Lewis. It was that one of the directors of the College had made a gift of $500,000 to the institution. This in itself was a telling way for a director to back up a new president. It was further stated that it is to be used for the erection of a mining engineering building and the endowment of the mining engineering department. This means a heavy emphasis on the engineering side of Lafayette's work. Up to this time Lafayette has been known chiefly as a liberal arts college. The number of institutions devoted to liberal culture is becoming less and less as they thus go over one by one to the industrial field.

Yet the supreme need of America in our times is that we shall have well established strongholds of culture devoted to moral, religious and intellectual ends. Institutions will best fill this need when they will not divide their energies.

Nelsen Schlegel, '23, after spending one year in Central Seminary, Dayton, Ohio, is now continuing his studies for the Christian ministry at Hartford Theological Seminary, Hartford, Conn.

THE KITCHEN WINDOW

The following article was written by a member of the student body. As the Weekly is supposed to furnish a medium for student opinion and as this article represents the opinion of a large majority of the college boarders it seems very fitting that their thought about this matter should find public expression.

That there is a culinary problem at Ursinus no one can doubt, but a solution seems forthcoming at present. Level headed co-operation between executives and students will settle this problem.

From our earliest infancy we have been taught to say "Give us this day our daily bread"—and that, for many of us, is all we have been getting for the past few weeks. There may have been more than bread placed before us on the table, but at least that was all that appeared in any way tempting or appetizing.

That bread has justly earned the title of "the staff of life" has been most forcefully brought home to Ursinus students, for it is solely by that article of food that we have been able to quiet the pangs of hunger. With the exception of the Sunday dinner, the meals served have been a disgrace to the culinary department and a disgrace to our digestions.

It was with the greatest timidity that I typed that last sentence, for I feared that after reading this the department in question might reduce the quality of the Sunday dinner, so that the others might not suffer by comparison—we have almost given up hope that the others will be raised to meet this "single meal" standard.

In this era when culinary skill is so closely allied to the tinsmiths trade it should take no great amount of knowledge to prepare appetizing meals.

We are not necessarily epicureans, we are satisfied with the variety, but please remedy the poor preparation.

The one cigarette in a million

THE instant a Camel is lighted, you sense that here is the distinctly better cigarette. And how this superior quality grows with the smoking! Choice tobaccos tell their fragrant story. Patient, careful blending rewards the smoker with added pleasure.

Camel is the one cigarette in a million for mildness and mellowness. Its decided goodness wins world popularity.

for Camel. Modern smokers demand superiority. They find it fulfilled in Camels, and place them overwhelmingly first.

You should know the tastes and fragrances that choice tobaccos really give. Camels will reveal an entirely new pleasure. And the more of them you light, the more enjoyable.

DICKINSON BEATS BEARS

Crook's try for the extra point was blocked by Mink. No further scoring was done in the first half and Ursinus held a 7-6 lead at halftime.

Second Half

Dickinson kicked off. After Benner made three yards through center Jeffers went twelve yards around left end. Dickinson braced and Moyer was forced to punt. A drive carried Dickinson to Ursinus 35 yard line where they lost the ball on downs. The Bears reached midfield where Moyer lost the ball on a fumble going through center, and again Dickinson was held after a march down the field, Angle punting to the Bears' 11 yard line. Ursinus was caught holding and penalized 15 yards, bringing the ball behind their goal line. Moyer punted to his 30 yard line. A lateral pass and a first down by Slivinski placed the pigskin on Ursinus' 19 yard line as the third period ended. Slivinski again crashed through center to score his second touchdown to place Dickinson in the lead, early in the last stanza. Dickinson again came down the field to the one yard line where the Bears held for one down and a 5 yard off side penalty aided Kichline's men to hold without further score.

The Ursinus line braced and Moyer received Angle's punt on his 20 yard line. A beautiful open field run by Moyer made 35 yards and another run made 5 yards. Moyer made another first down as the ball was brought into Dickinson territory. A pass, Moyer to Benner, yielded 8 yards as the game ended.

ALUMNI NOTES

Among the alumni on the campus over the past week end were: Stanley Moyer, '27, Ruth Eppehimer, '27, Grace Kauffman, '27, Helen Ort, '27, Clair Blum, '27, Barbara Boston, '27, Isabel Johnson, '27, Bernice Leo, '27, Morton Oppenheimer, '27, Kathryn Reimert, '27, Samuel Reimert, '27, Betty Smith, '27, Mary Stiehler, '27, Russel Boice, '27, George Erb, '27, Abel Fink, '27, Rudolph Glocker, '27, Owen Jones, '27, George Koch, '27, Elizabeth Miller, '27, John Moore, '27, Lillian Moser, '27, Eugene Rousch, '27, Earl Skinner, '27, Nesbit Straley, '27, Bernice Nute, ex-'27, Owen Hoagland, ex-'27, Edith Bisbing, ex-'28, Polly Dotterer, ex-'30, Walter Molitor, '26, Charles Hunsicker, '26, Malcolm Derk, '26, Dorothy Hamilton, '26, Francis Evans, '26, Lena Carl, '26, Margaret Ehly, '26, William Stafford, '26, Betty Halloway Rutter, '25, John Bisbing, '25, Fernley Rutter, '24, Robert Rensch, '24, Henry Gotshalk, '24, Edwin Faye, '24, Warren Bietsch, '24, Herbert Howells, '23, Helen Isenberg Ballantyne, '23, Donald Helffrich, '21, Edna Wagner, '14, Helen Ferree, '14, and Florence Brooks, '12.

A large following of Alumni witnessed the Ursinus victory at Lancaster last Saturday.

Many students seem to have had the impression that Monday morning was also a holiday. The eight o'clock classes suffered most.

The Literary Societies received more money Friday evening than is generally contributed when offerings are requested.

SATURDAY' TRACK MEET

George Washington game on Saturday next. A silver cup will be awarded to the winning team, the cup to be the permanent possession of the college whose team wins it three years straight. Each of the colleges in the Conference will enter five men. The Conference has ruled that freshmen will be eligible to participate. Coach Veatch has not yet picked the Grizzly quintet, but he has a number of good men to draw from. On the whole the advance dope promises a good race with the chances fairly even for all.

Y. M. C. A.

A Derr Hall meeting was the feature of the Y. M. C. A. in their regular weekly gathering Wednesday evening. About forty young men were present to appreciate an enjoyable and thought-inspiring program.

Mr. Sheeder, who was introduced by the chairman, Walter Sheirer, '29, as a former Derr Hall man, gave the address. His subject was one of especial interest to students who attempt to reconcile the modern teachings of science with older religious beliefs, "The Place of Faith in a World of Science." Mr. Sheeder's remarks excited general interest in an ever live subject.

Another enjoyable number on the program was a quartet which entertained with an appreciable selection. The singers were Messrs. Sheirer, '29, Thompson, '28, Weller, '28, and Saalman, '29. Mr. Kochenberger accompanied at the piano.

GAFF FROM THE GRIZZLY

Many thanks for the half-holiday. The many students who had no classes Monday afternoon appreciated it particularly.

The College is already assuming an atmosphere of mid-years. The accompanying nervous break-downs are expected soon.

We appreciate the efforts of the faculty in eliminating the worry that always precedes examinations. Nevertheless, unannounced tests have not attained the popularity they deserve.

We read recently that adhesive tape was valuable to re-shape the face. Can it be that some of our football heroes feel the need of this? We also noticed quite another use that the F. & M. team had for this article.

of twenty-five years ago, have resulted as the product of real cooperation on the part of those interested in a better Ursinus. The students of to-day, therefore, must join the forces and aid in making the Ursinus of tomorrow as much greater as the graduates of past years have made it.

At the suggestion of Dr. White, the Seniors demonstrated their desire to carry on the Ursinus spirit by singing the new "Fight Song." Then Lois Nickel, vice-president of the Senior class, voiced the sentiments of all the girls when she told how much they appreciated not only the luncheon, but the spirit which prompted it.

As the luncheon ended the feeling of cooperation was evident, and the guests can but hope to prove in the future how much they appreciate the kindness of the Woman's Club.

GROUPS HOLD MEETINGS

ler," the "Fiddler and the "Book Agent." Upon special request he acquainted the Freshmen with some of the campus celebrities. Applause spoke more than words can.

Dr. Lindsay, the new group advisor, presented a very interesting account sketching briefly the thought, life and art of Greece. The group is proud to have a man of such scholarly attainment as Dr. Lindsay act as advisor.

Election of new officers was held and then came refreshments which were welcomed by all. While the group ate, Miss Frank, '28, entertained with selections from grand opera. She disclosed very unique pianistic talent. A good time was had by all. The meeting closed with the Campus Song.

Mathematical Group

The first meeting of the Mathematical group for the year was held on Thursday evening, Oct. 13, in Schaff hall. The group is considerably larger than in previous years having an enrollment of 51. President Willard Moyer, '28, presided over the meeting. Miss Mary Rule, '29, assisted by Misses Seitz, '29, and Houck, '29, sang "Louisiana Lullaby" with Miss Waldman '28, at the piano. The Tetrahedron and its important parts was the subject of a very interesting paper presented by Miss Mabel Fritch, '28. Misses Moyer, '28, and Gulick, '28, again entertained with popular melodies on their mandolins. Another very interesting paper concerning the semi-regular polyhedrons was given by Miss Hoffer, '28. That mathematics must not always be serious and concern unknowns was proved by Mr. Van Davies, '30, in "Math Mirth."

The treasurer, Mr. Scheirer, '29, gave an account of the financial situation of the organization.

The group advisor, Dr. Clawson, always gives us a very interesting talk and this time gave us a surprise in the form of extracts from a recent paper he has written. This year there has been an addition to the faculty of the math department, Prof. Veatch.

In the refreshments served the mathematical idea was carried out very cleverly. The meeting adjourned after the brief social hour in charge of Margaret Ozias, '28.
